THE TURNING TIMES is published monthly as an information source for members of the East Texas Woodturners (ETW). ETW is a chapter of The American Association of Woodturners (AAW) and is committed to serving woodturners in the East Texas area surrounding Tyler, Texas. The ETW Chapter joins with the AAW in its dedication to providing education, information and organization to those interested in woodturning.

Meeting at Center Point Energy Entex, 7008 S. Broadway, Tyler, TX

March 13, 2004 9:00 a.m.

THE PREZ SAYS

Well February is over. Sorry we had to cancel the regular meeting but we just didn't think it was worth taking a chance on somebody having an accident trying to get there. Some places were pretty bad.

The good news is the New Turners Seminar was the best yet. Many found out about it on our web site and from the notice in the Tyler Paper There were about 50 people there, many of whom I did not know. We now have 11 new members and several are thinking about joining.

Walter Tate, Ken Terrell, Tom Criswell, Ed Heuslein, Norm Dixon, Mark Anthony and Tom Crosby manned lathes and John Lenoard gave instructions on sharpening. There were so many chips flying it looked like another snowstorm. Everyone that talked to me had good things to say. If you were one of the few that didn't show up you really missed something.

Since Steve Green was cheated out of his opportunity to do a demo he is getting a second chance. Steve will be showing various ways to mount things on the lathe, some sharpening methods, miniature turning and other interesting and enlightening tricks. This will be a great follow up for the New Turning Seminar.

This will be the last chance to buy the winning ticket for the three-month raffle, the Mr. Strong Vise. These things are very handy so be sure to get a bunch of tickets. I know it seems like a long time to Christmas but you only have 10 more chances to get tickets for the Stronghold Chuck with extra jaws, which will be awarded to some lucky person at the Christmas Party. For this month we have a Bedan tool, credit card hone, Titebond glue, Wax, and Turners Finish.

We will try a different method of doing the show and tell and meeting agenda like I promised last month. Everybody bring something to tell about and some things for the show table to talk about at the long break. Be sure and let one of the officers know what you think about the new system so that we can change it to be more like you want it to be. We still have two nice blocks to give away for this show and tell all you have to do is bring a piece and you get a chance to win.

All of our new members are especially encouraged to come and see what a regular meeting is all about. I'm looking forward to seeing each of you on the 13th.

Tom

Steve Green Bio

- Four years in the military as an aircraft mechanic
- 25 years in public education as a teacher of Industrial Arts and Processes
- First woodworking experience at age 14 in a high school agriculture class
- 1972 - first wood turning experience
- 1980 - first wood carving experience

In addition to teaching, I, as many do, operated a part time business of Furniture Repair and Refinishing. “I think of myself as a woodworker with no specialty.”

Last Chance To Order ETW Shirts

This will be your last chance to order club shirts until the fall.

In addition to Tees, Sweat and Polo shirts, there is now Green Denim in either long or short sleeve.

Please place your order with Tom Crosby during Saturday's meeting.

Editor's Corner

I missed seeing everyone last month. But inclement weather is always a possibility in Texas.

I couldn't attend the Beginning Turner Seminar on the 21st, but I noted that attendance was outstanding. I look forward to meeting all of our new members and visitors. Please introduce yourself. You can't miss me, I will be the one in a bandage.

The March meeting is the debut of our new agenda. I feel that everyone will be better served with the new format. Please inform any of your officers with your views on the changes.

Please stop and let me know how you like our newsletter. Also, let me know of any ideas you may have to make it better.

See you on Saturday,
Joseph Armstrong

The following is an excerpt from an article in Popular Woodworking, November 1999, authored by Bob Flexner.

THE FOLLY OF FOOD-SAFE FINISHES.

...Conclusion

The issue of food safeness in finishes is a classic case of the concept "validation by repetition." Consistent, long-term repetition in woodworking magazines of a food-safeness issue, despite the complete lack of supporting evidence, has led to a widely held belief in the woodworking community that food safeness is an issue.

It shouldn't be. No other segment of society treats it as such. A more responsible approach is as follows.

You can't be absolutely sure about the food safeness of any finish you put on wood. There could even be problems with mineral oil and walnut oil that we just don't know of yet. There could also be problems with raw linseed oil, pure tung oil, was, shellac, and salad bowl finish, because we don't know where these substances have been or what they might have come in contact with. None has met the regulations laid out by the FDA.

But, based on FDA regulations, the way finishes are made, the complete lack of any evidence to the contrary, and the countless other untested objects food and children come in contact with, there's no reasonable argument for avoiding the use of any finish.

If you are interested in reading the entire article, contact Ed Heuslein and he will LOAN you his magazine.
