THE PREZ SAYS

Hello ET Turners,

This year has sure gone by at a fast pace. We only have one more demo and the Christmas Party, and then start over again. We have had some outstanding demos, the Alan Leland workshop and demo, and a great number of club members attended SWAT this month. The membership has grown, and the quantity and quality of work displayed in the Instant Gallery has been outstanding.

Again, the election of Officers for ETW Club will be held at the Nov. 1st meeting. Anyone wanting to volunteer, contact Ed Huselin, Cecil Cox or Tom Crosby.

The plans for the Christmas Party have been finalized and we hope that everyone comes. The sign up sheet will be passed around again so all that missed it last month will have the opportunity to sign up. This will help in determining the amount of food we need. We will have food and ice tea, Gallery of our work, free door prizes, Raffle sales for monthly, quarterly, and yearly raffle items.

It sure was a pleasure to have the "Illustrious" and "Best Turner in the Southwest", Ken Terrell, in house to do a great demonstration on turning his fantastic boxes with a tall finial. The November 1st demo will be by Tom Crosby on turning a project that he states will take the above titles from Ken, so this will be one we do not wish to miss. Norm Dixon was scheduled for November, but will not be able to here due to a family illness. Thanks to Tom for filling in on short notice.

Please remember that Sec. Bill Holmes is accepting membership renewals and new member sign ups early so as not to be overloaded in January. Family membership includes the club member, spouse, and dependent children.

The Setup/Clean Up Volunteers for November are Joe Cass, Jack Day, J.J. Altier, Tom Crocker and Shawn Smith.

Keep a sharp tool and let the chips fly, – Charles

SWAT Instant Gallery Summary

For those of you that were unable to attend SWAT in Waco this year, we thought it might be of interest to point out that we had 394 pieces exhibited by 94 artists. In addition, the Two for One Raffle, which is a function of the Saturday night banquet program, included 38 turnings that were raffled off. This year there were six of these turnings that were selected for a special Gallery Raffle. This particular raffle was extremely well received by the attending members of SWAT and will be expanded in 2009.

ETW club members that staffed the Instant Gallery would like to extend our appreciation to the ladies that assisted with the checking in and checking out of all the pieces on display in the Gallery. Without their help it would have been extremely difficult for those of us handling the IG at those peak check in times. Thank you again ladies!!!

We would also like to thank ALL of the volunteers from ETW that assisted in the Gallery and gave time to make it such a success again this year. Thanks to all of you who helped.

SWAT Reflections

This was my third time to attend SWAT and I'm already looking forward to next year. I was really pleased to see that there was a session for new turners (hopefully there will be another one next year). There were some very good demonstrators (especially Donald Derry) that inspired me to try different things at home. Working in the instant gallery gave me an opportunity to get a good look at the beautiful pieces and to meet some of the artist. The quality of work seems to get better every year. It also gave me a chance to get better acquainted with our own club members and their wives. I appreciate all the hard work that it took to get things set up and organized. All in all, I think my experience was a very good one. - Frances Cass

Thompson Lathe Tools Review

I guess this is more of a testimonial than an evaluation of Doug Thompson's hand made turning tools. I have been using these tools along side of Sorby, Crown, Hamlet, Henry Taylor, and Glaser tools.

In my estimation these tools are equal or superior to any other tool made. They are easy to sharpen (when you sharpen them you will see sparks like you are using carbon steel) they hold an edge for much longer than High Speed Steel and equal to or longer than the other powder metal tools, in addition I can get a sharper edge on these tools than I can on the other powdered metal tools.

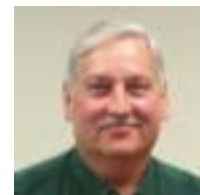

These tools are made from CPM 10V (A11) this steel has 9.75% vanadium, tempered 3 times and is subjected to a cryogenic treatment before and after the second tempering. So you end up with a superior metal for woodturning tools. I promise you will not be disappointed with these tools. Remember they are sized by American standards so they are measured by diameter of the shaft not the width of the flute. If you have more questions about them go to:

www.thompsonlathetools.com (see ad on last page)

Happy turning to you. – Tom Crosby

SWAT Vendor Fun

Another SWAT Symposium has come and gone, which means I have a couple of weeks to come up with some good excuses to give my wife before the credit card bill arrives in the mail. What am I talking about....VENDORS!

Hello, my name is Mike and I am a woodaholic.

This years symposium had the largest number of vendors (27) SWAT has had in the five years I have been attending. It was also the largest number of wood vendors (4) in that period of time. And boy, did I enjoy them. I have a wood hungry monkey on my back, and he grabbed several pieces of wood for me to play with in the future. As Paul Coppinger (who has a lot more wood than me) likes to say, "wood is wealth". I'm going to see if my wife buys the idea I was just adding to my wealth.

Hello, my name is Mike and I am a toolaholic.

What can I say. At least they're cheaper addictions than drugs (so I'm told). I had planned on buying only one tool, a Thompson bowl gouge. Thanks to a protagonist named Tom Crosby, I walked away from the Thompson booth with three beautiful gouges. With this, my addictions should have been satisfied. But no, the club's youngest protagonist, Nathanael Landry, wanted me to see the new knurling tool being demonstrated in the Craft Supplies booth. Yep, I once again had to feed that tool hungry monkey on my back.

As you can tell, the vendor area was a lot of fun for me - and the monkeys. Besides being an opportunity to feed those insatiable monkeys, it was a chance to visit with some really nice people, to view some beautiful wood, and see first-hand some new tools and processes. For now, those monkey's are going to have to go on a diet – at least until the SWAT 2009 symposium – Mike DeLong

October 2008 Meeting

The Illustrious (& humble) Ken Terrell, "Best Turner in the Southwest"...

...showed us how he makes his beautiful finial boxes.

He begins by turning the body to shape....

...then fits the top to the body...

...reverses everything and completes the shape of the top...

...and finally fits the turned finial to the top.

The October ETW meeting gave a big boost to the 2008-2009 Empty Bowls project with 27 pieces donated by 9 ETW members. To date the project has collected 69 items from 17 donors. There are approximately four months remaining to participate in the project; so, let's get busy turning to help those in need. – Editor (who forgot to take a picture)
